Dear San Francisco Arts Commission,

The San Francisco Black Firefighters Association strongly supports The First Responders, "We Can All Be Heroes" mural dedication expressly designed to publicly acknowledge San Francisco's Black Firefighters heroic contributions, both at work, as well as highlight the impact of their community enrichment programs throughout the city and county of San Francisco.

Firefighters and Emergency Medical Technicians dedicate their lives to serving others, swiftly responding to critically urgent calls as the first point of contact in life saving situations. The mural dedication will proudly celebrate every professional First Responder, honoring the sacrifice both on and off duty. The mural will be a present-day reminder that "We Can All Be Heroes" with equal access to opportunities.

Mission Art 415, Inc. will partner with award winning local artist and proud member of the San Francisco Fire Department, Rigel "Crayone" Juratovac. Dear San Francisco Arts Commission,

I am currently the senior Battalion Chief in the San Francisco Fire Department, with over 31 years of experience. I strongly support The First Responders, "We Can All Be Heroes" mural. Having a mural designed to publicly acknowledge San Francisco's First Responders, The San Francisco Fire Youth Academy, and the City EMT Program, will forever memorialize the benefits of these programs.

The San Francisco Black Firefighters Association (SFBFA) has been instrumental in the development of the City-EMT program as well as starting the San Francisco Fire Youth Academy (SFFYA). The "We Can All Be Heroes" mural depicts a child entering into the SFFYA, transitioning to a young adult into the City-EMT program, then an adult in the SFFD Division of Training to become a member of the SFFD. The vision will not only present the heroism of those who have served, but to those who have contributed to the future of San Francisco. Our hope is for the mural to be a constant reminder of the programs made available to everyone in San Francisco and to give equal access to opportunities that some young people never consider.

Mission Art 415, Inc in conjunction with Rigel "Crayone" Juratovac, an award winning local artist and co-worker will create the mural design. I worked with Mission Art 415, Inc on the Earl Gage Jr. mural dedication and know that this mural masterpiece and unveiling ceremony will be a professional and successful event.

Sincerely,

Zachary W. Pumphrey
Battalion Chief, SFFD

Dear San Francisco Arts Commission,

I endorse The First Responders, "We Can All Be Heroes" mural dedication. Honoring our front line professionals with an exterior mural masterpiece is a wonderful way to publicly thank them for being a vital part of the emergency team in saving lives.

First Responders dedicate their lives to serving the community as the first point of contact in emergency situations. San Francisco First Responders did a heroic job during the Covid 19 pandemic dealing with safety concerns and the increasingly challenging street conditions around homeless, mental health and drug users.

The mural dedication is a wonderful way to say THANK YOU for all of the frontline professionals who dedicate their lives to saving others...

This is a well deserved mural dedication and I am proud to support the mural masterpiece and celebrate our frontline heroes. Being there and showing our appreciation for these selfless men and women.

Sincerely,

Sherman Tillman
