Hearts in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO
GENERAL HOSPITAL
FOUNDATION

- Hearts in San Francisco represents a city dedicated to caring for each of its citizens. The Hearts are a symbol of pride in a public hospital that is there for every single one of us –whether in times of crisis and trauma or in everyday health. Each heart symbolizes a commitment to care for all and support for the people and programs on the front lines at Zuckerberg San Francisco General Hospital & Trauma Center.
- Health Equity: The funds raised support those delivering on the promise of accessible and equitable health care for all in our city.
- SFGHF has generously offered to loan, install and maintain a heart sculpture at SECC, at no cost to the City, for 2 years.

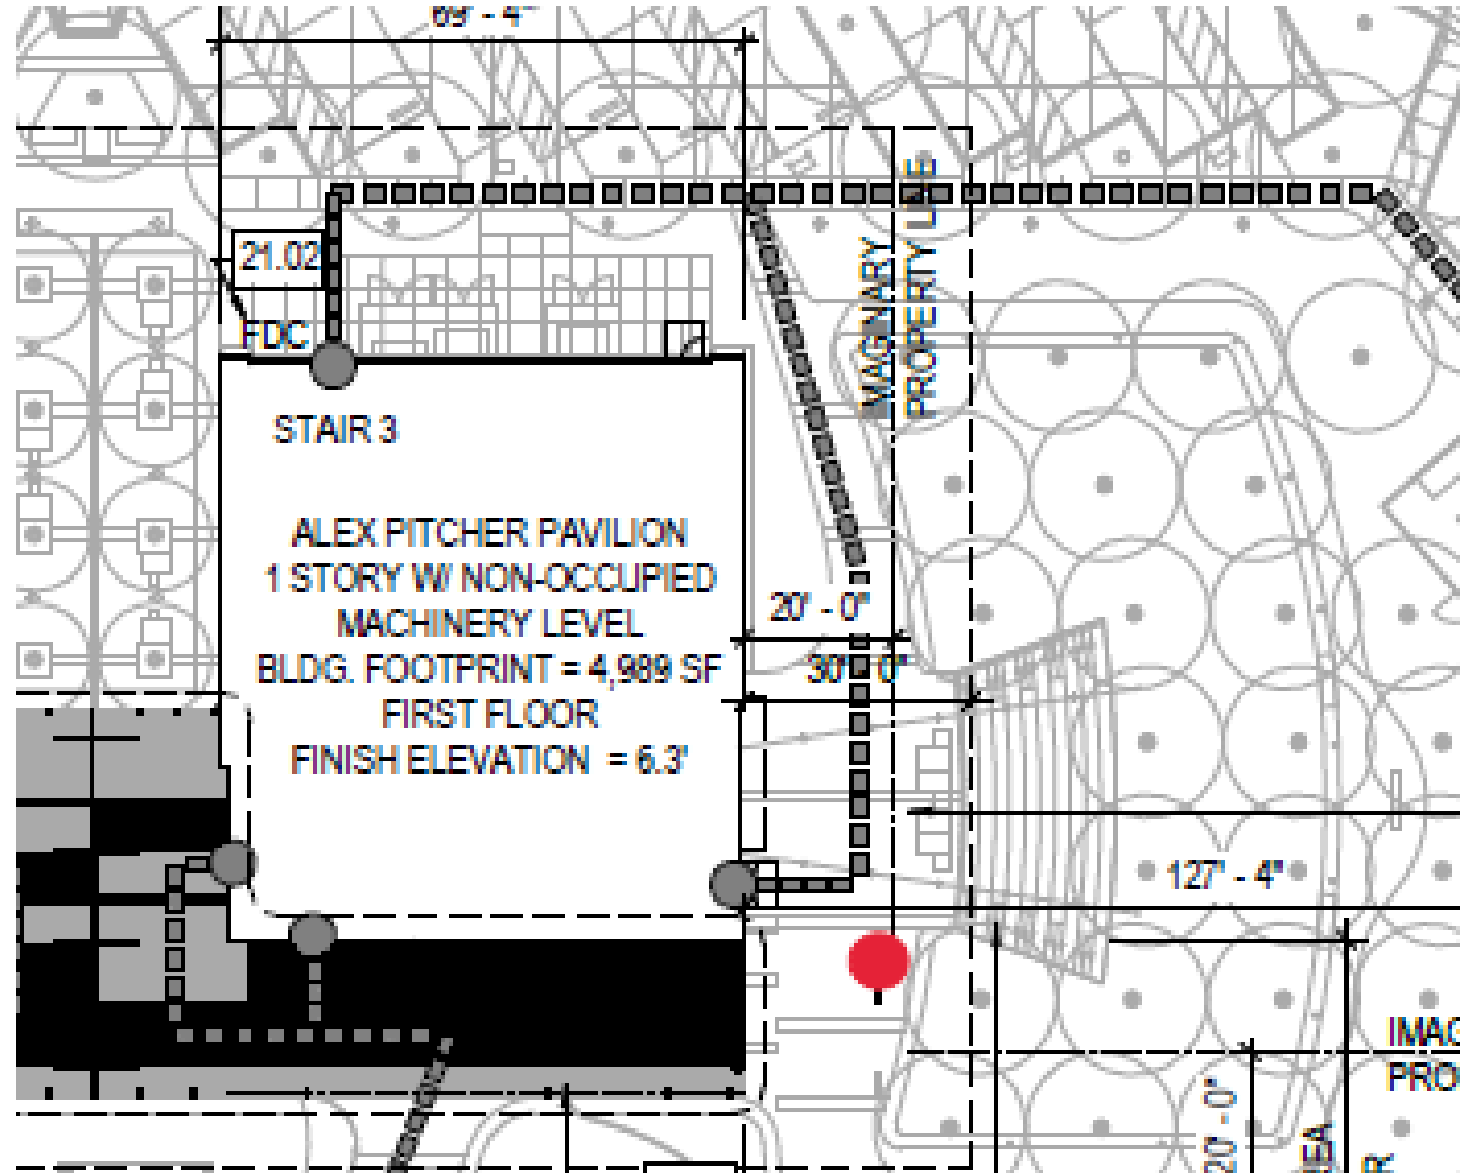

Justice by André Renay

- This Heart features Dr. Martin Luther King, John Lewis, Reverend Jesse Douglas, James Forman, and Ralph Abernathy marching from Selma to Montgomery for voting rights for African Americans. The Heart also looks to the future of the Black Lives Matter movement.

Placement

- SF Arts Commission recommends this installation location (red dot, at right) near the amphitheater
- Heart will be installed for a term of 2 years
- Six feet (6') wide by five feet (5') high by 40 inches deep and weighs approximately 400 pounds

Alternative Placements

- If SECC needs to temporarily relocate the sculpture from recommendation location (blue star)
- Alternate amphitheater locations 1 and 2, closer to the Alex Pitcher Pavilion
- Alternate location 3, main entrance, 3rd Street and Evans Ave.
